Electronics Purchasing:

Click here for help

DOE has indicated a preference for purchase of electronics equipment registered with the Electronic Product Environmental Assessment Tool (EPEAT). The first EPEAT-registered products were announced in July 2007, and may be seen at <http://www.epeat.net>

If your site purchased any EPEAT-registered products from NONFEDERAL sources in FY 2007, click here to enter your data

Designated Biobased Content Products - FSRI 9002/EO13101:

Click here for help

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) designated its first biobased content products in March 2007. Federal agencies are required to begin preferential procurement of certain of these products starting in March 2007. The designation status of these items is included in the list below.

In addition to the forthcoming requirements, DOE continues to encourage its sites to purchase biobased content products under its Buy Bio Initiative.

For percent of biobased content required and background info, see the U.S. Department of Agriculture guidelines
